TURK FORTS ENDEAVOR TO SINK TRANSPORTS

Warships Reply With Bombardment—Result of Fight Not Announced

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
LONDON, England, April 21.—A conflict of big proportions for possession of the Dardanelles straits, leading to Constantinople and the seat of Ottoman power, is imminent. The attack of the land forces along the Dardanelles, it is learned, will be on a much larger scale than has previously been indicated.

BERLIN SAYS ALLIES FORCE NUMBERS 20,000

LONDON, England, April 21.—According to Berlin reports, 20,000 Allied soldiers have been landed on the north shore of the Gulf of Saros, presumably to attack the Turkish fortifications.

An engagement has occurred between the warships and the forts in connection with the landing, the forts endeavoring to prevent the soldiers from reaching shore. The results of the engagement are not yet announced.

GERMAN AEROPLANES RAID RUSSIAN TOWN

Ciechanow has also been bombarded by a Zeppelin, which made a night attack but it did no damage.

RUSSIA CLAIMS AIRMEN SUCCESSFUL IN ATTACK

PETROGRAD, Russia, Apr. 21.—Russian aviators have made a successful bombardment of the railroad station at Soldau.

SENATE DEBATES HOUSE BILL ON CHIROPRACTICS

House Bill 262 will be discussed by the senate in committee of the whole this afternoon. All persons interested in the measure have been invited to be present, and there promises to be a lively debate on the question of whether the upper house shall adopt the report of its health committee which recommends the passage of the measure.

The purpose of the bill is to amend section 1017 of the revised laws of 1915 by adding a paragraph which provides that until such a time as a chiropractic board of examiners is established in Hawaii, the treasurer may grant licenses to practise chiropractic upon the written recommendation of the board of health. The applicant for a license, however, must first file with the treasurer a certified copy of a diploma by a legally chartered school of chiropractic.

Argument against the passage of the bill yesterday afternoon was that it would put a stop to the practise of "lomi-lomi" and massage by many Hawaiians and Japanese, who have been engaged in this business for years. President Chillingworth said that he believed the bill is a direct attack against Christian Scientists and that if the bill went through it would, by implication, eliminate the practise of Christian Science in the territory.

The London Allied Engineering Trade Union decided to demand increases of six shillings per week, or 15 per cent on piece work.

AD CLUB LUNCH SIMPLY BRISTLES WITH FEATURES

There was almost an embarrassment of riches at the Ad Club's weekly luncheon-meeting today. Operative talent, scientific research, psychological advertisement and deep-sea diving were some of the offerings. In addition to this full program, it was ladies' day and that meant an unusual turnout of the membership.

The musical feature, real music of the highest order, was provided by members of the Bevan Opera Company, Miss Bernice Holmes and Signor Sacchetti. Both would have been called on to respond to many encores had the enthusiasm of the members been allowed full swing.

"How to Reach the Women Through Advertising" was the subject assigned to Prof. A. L. Andrews of the College of Hawaii. The speaker gave his address a simpler and more to the point title, saying that he would say something on "How to touch the pocketbooks of the ladies."

After quoting statistics to show that women are the real power when it comes to buying and that only the only thing more man is allowed to purchase without advice and assistance is collars, Prof. Andrews went on to show how advertisers must cater to the women, by creating interest and response in their advertisements and above all "good feeling" between merchants and customers.

"If the women of Honolulu are doing their buying of mainland firms," said the speaker, "it stands to reason that a great proportion of the local trade is going away. The scientific advertiser must know something of the impulses and psychology of women to be successful."

SALVAGE WORK ON F-4 RESUMED AFTER DAY DELAY

Rough Sea Moderates And Difficult Labor Started Again

DIVER LOUGHMAN STILL UNDER DOCTOR'S CARE

Having Tough Time of It and Can't Dive For Several Months to Come

After a night of anxiety, naval officers in charge of the F-4 salvage resumed work this morning. The three man-size wire cables holding the sunken submarine fast to the lifting scows had withstood the strain of rough weather and a big sea, so that a full day's delay was the only tax exacted by the miniature storm that kicked up a rumpus off the harbor yesterday.

Shortly before 8 o'clock this morning the tug Navajo steamed out of the harbor to the scene of operations, to assist in getting a fourth line under the submarine, and carrying it to the pontoons. Drizzling was continued throughout the morning, the intention being to resume lifting operations as soon as the new line, which replaces the smaller one which parted early Monday morning, is secure. There is no diminution of confidence in the ultimate success of the salvage operation, but everyone connected with the job realizes that delays may be expected, no matter what advance preparations are taken.

It would have been a serious matter had any of the lines given way last night under the buffeting of the seas. Only one cable was holding the forward part of the submarine, while two were round the stern and fast to one scow, and had any one of these given way, all the work of the past weeks might have been undone. There was the chance of a scow going adrift, in which case it might have been a serious matter to recover it and the divers would have had to make perilous journeys to the bottom to inspect the new lines that would have been placed.

No under-water examination will be made of the fourth line when it is in position. With three cables already securely holding, and the exact position of each known, it is figured that the fourth can be maneuvered from above, with little chance of its going astray. Diving to the submarine at its present depth, among the mess of lines between it and the surface, is such dangerous work that it will be avoided if possible. The divers themselves are perfectly willing to take the chance but those in charge of the work think they can get along without an examination.

W. F. Loughman, the diver who nearly lost his life last Saturday when his life line fouled on one of the ca-

SMART CASE IS BEING CLOSED; BABY ON COAST

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 21.—Richard Smart, baby son of Henry Gaillard Smart and the late Thelma K. Parker Smart, and central figure in the Smart will contest, arrived today on the liner Lurline in charge of an attendant.

Following the action in Circuit Judge Whitney's court yesterday by which the Smart will fight was compromised, final arrangements of the various interests involved are being definitely settled.

What fee will be accorded Attorney C. H. Olson as the "next best friend" of Richard Smart, will be determined by the attorneys for both sides in the case.

Before Circuit Judge William L. Whitney this morning Attorney Olson petitioned that the court make an order allowing this settlement, the petition being allowed. Statements from other attorneys in the case were that this arrangement was satisfactory to both sides. Attorney Olson said that his fee will be decidedly less than was at first expected by the trustees.

Attorney Olson was given authority by the court to submit the compromise. The court also dismissed the petition for letters of administration.

The Star-Bulletin was informed today that the expenses of the litigation will not all be taken from the child's share, as was first stated, but part will be taken from other interests. The details of this have not been given out. What fees the principal attorneys will get have not been stated, but in court circles it is believed the total attorneys' fees will be more than $100,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Knight were passengers today for San Francisco in the Matson steamer Wilhelmina. Their departure to the coast was unannounced and occasioned some surprise except to their intimate friends.

PROSPECT OF JAPANESE ULTIMATUM TO CHINA BRINGS DISPUTE TO CRISIS

TREASURY AGENT COMING TO INSTALL J. F. HALEY AS REVENUE COLLECTOR

John F. Haley, well-known newspaperman of Honolulu, within a week or two will become United States collector of internal revenue for Hawaii.

The Star-Bulletin received a wireless despatch from San Francisco today saying that U. M. Thomas, who is a special agent for the treasury department, is sailing today on the Matson's to install Haley in the federal office. The Matsonia is due next Tuesday and it is expected the transfer from Collector C. A. Cuttrill to Haley will be made at once. Haley has already made all arrangements for his bond, it is understood.

The internal revenue office is one of the most important of the United States positions in Hawaii.

JAPANESE WHO FIGURED IN FRACAS AT KINNEY HOME GETS LONG TERM

Indicted by the territorial grand jury on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, Saigi Shigeki, a Japanese, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Ashford yesterday to serve not less than three years in Oahu prison. The defendant pleaded guilty upon arraignment. According to the complaint, the Japanese, armed with a gun, attempted to assault a Japanese girl in the employ of Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction. Kinney called the police to eject the intruder from his premises. The Japanese pulled his revolver and it was not until Kinney hit him on the head with a stone that he was quelled.

APPROPRIATIONS BILL IN CONFERENCE; HOUSE HASN'T YET CONCEDED

The conference committee of the house and senate on Senate Bill 23, the biennial appropriation measure, failed to reach an agreement last night and an adjournment was taken until tonight. Chairman Watkins of the house finance committee, who is a member of the conference committee, said today that so far the members representing the lower branch of the legislature have not yielded on any of the $170,000 in reductions, which the house made to the senate bill. The reductions were general throughout the bill and affected no important items in particular.

JAPANESE HERE SAYS LIQUOR BILL DISCRIMINATORY

Start Movement to Protest to Government Treaty Is Violated

Charging that the Japanese of Honolulu are being discriminated against in business and that the American Japanese treaty of 1911 would be violated by prohibiting Japanese from selling liquor, a petition is being sent from the Japanese Association of Hawaii to the Japanese government.

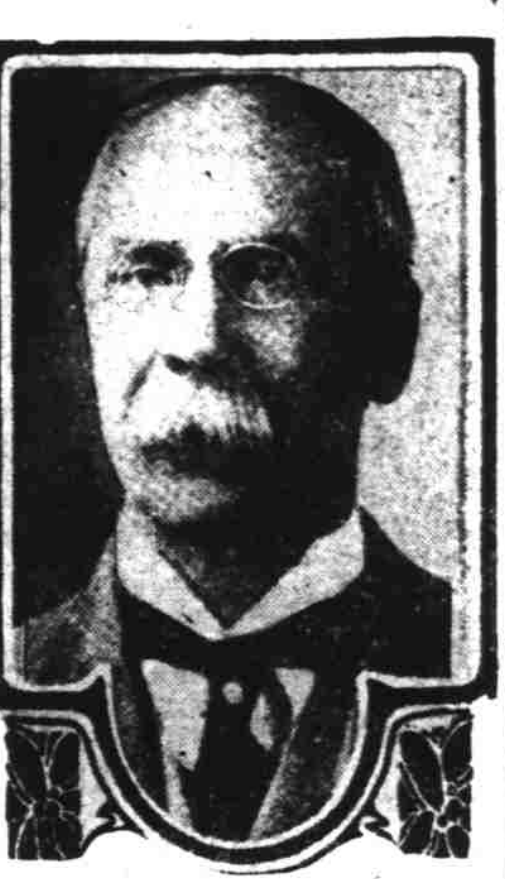

The Hawaii Hochi, a local Japanese daily, published a translation of the petition yesterday. The document was signed by Dr. G. Negor, president of the association, who is also editor of the Hawaii Hochi. According to the Hochi the petition is being sent to Japan through the local Japanese consulate.

The document says: "Honorable Makekau of the house of representatives of Territory of Hawaii, has presented a bill on the 15th inst., regarding the license of saloon business. The purpose of this bill is to prohibit the liquor license commissioners from granting the saloon license to all persons who are not citizens of the United States. (House Bill No. 332.) The same was committed for report to the house judiciary committee on the 17th inst.

"In inspecting the existing Japanese-American treaty, which came into force on and from the 17th July, 1911, we find the following provision in clause 1, art. 1, viz.: The subjects or citizens of one of the high contracting parties, shall have right freely to reside in any part of the dominions of the other high contracting party, and shall enjoy the same liberty to pursue wholesale and retail business . . . and to do all acts and things necessary and incidental to all business with the subjects or citizens of the other high contracting party on equal terms and conditions.

"It is plain that the Makekau bill violates this provision of the existing Japanese-American treaty. The mere appearance of such a bill gives a sense of great insecurity to the men who are in the business affected thereby. Should it become a law, as it will in due course of legislation unless saner counsel prevail, the Japanese in these islands will be deprived of the right and opportunity of a profitable source of income, and this in spite of the treaty provision guaranteeing them

DIPLOMATS OF TOKIO IN CRITICAL POSITION

Above—George W. Guthrie, American ambassador to Japan, who is now on his way to America. It is reported that he is called to Washington for a conference in connection with the Chinese situation. Below—Baron Takaki Kato, Japanese minister of foreign affairs and by many credited with being the firm power behind the Japanese demands.

JAPAN REPORTS SAY DEADLOCK MORE SERIOUS

(Special cable to Hawaii Shimpo)
TOKIO, Japan, April 21.—Premier Count Okuma held a cabinet conference today and later reported the results of the ministerial meeting to Emperor Yoshihito at the palace. It is supposed that the deadlock of negotiations with China was the subject of the conference.

Relations with China become more critical every hour. The Chinese government refuses to yield to Group 5 of the demands. Japan will not retract any of the demands set forth in the original document.

MAN WHO TOOK FIJI FIGHTERS TO FRONT PASSES THROUGH CITY

Capt. C. A. Swinbourne, who took the Fiji contingent to the front to Europe for the British colors, was a visitor in Honolulu today for a few hours. He is on the liner Niagara, bound for Fiji for a short stay. He expects to rejoin the colors within a few months.

such right. We therefore humbly request you to call the attention of the local American authorities to the fact that the bill in question is in violation of the Japanese-American treaty, and further request the home government to call the attention of the highest diplomatic authority of the United States of America to the appearance of the bill, so that the sanctity of the treaty may be preserved, as well as the rights and interests of the Japanese residing in these islands."

"GENRO" AT TOKIO CALLED TO CONFERENCE; AMERICA'S INTERESTS A GRAVE FACTOR

Japan Not Likely to Yield Further, is Belief in Tokio—Berlin Newspaper Comments on Situation and Mexican "Naval Base" Story

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless]

TOKIO, Japan, April 21.—It is recognized now that a grave crisis has been reached in the Chino-Japanese negotiations over the "twenty-one demands" made by Japan at Peking.

The members of Count Okuma's cabinet and the "Genro" or Elder Statesmen, who are consulted on matters of great moment to the country, were called into a protracted conference following the developments of yesterday.

It is semi-officially believed that Japan has brought the unsettled clauses of the demands down to an irreducible minimum, and that on those questions not yet settled Minister Hioki, under instructions from his government, will yield no further.

It is also believed that in the event of further procrastinations by China, President Yuan Shih-Kai and Foreign Minister Lu Chen Hsiang will probably be pressed for a reply within a given period.

BERLIN NEWSPAPER COMMENTS ON SITUATION

BERLIN, Germany, April 21.—The Post in an editorial today under the heading "American Troubles" shows doubt in the genuineness of the accident which was said to have caused the grounding of the Japanese cruiser Asama on the Lower California coast. The editorial puts forward two possible explanations for the grounding if it were intention. One was an effort to put pressure on Washington to relieve the situation at Peking. The other was to establish a Japanese naval base on Mexican soil. This touches an American spot, the Post comments.

America must either give Japan a free hand in China, the editorial continues, or demand that Japan leave Mexico. "This would mean war," says the Post.

CHINA EXPLAINS HOW DEMANDS MADE REACHED PUBLIC

PEKING, China, April 21.—It is officially announced that a translation of the full text of the Japanese demands has already been published. It is said that in the United States there has been published an official translation of the Chinese text, Japan having presented a text in both languages.

This announcement is made because of the Japanese protest that China has been informing certain foreign legations concerning the progress of the negotiations.

German Aviators Take Retaliatory Measures For Allies' Activity

The following cablegram from official German sources was received today:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—Official headquarters report: 'Near the cathedral of Rheims an enemy battery has been discovered and shelled. In the Argonne the French are throwing bombs with nauseating effect. French attacks north of Lafordeparis, and near Flirey, in the Vosges, northwest and southwest of Meuzera, and near Gardernach, have been repulsed. In Priest forest the Germans have advanced further. 'Yesterday morning an enemy aviator damaged by bombs a silk factory in Loerach belonging to Swiss. Two houses were damaged and several civilians hurt. 'On the east front the situation is unchanged. Russian bombs were thrown on Interburg and Gumbinnen, an open town outside the district of military operations. In reply 150 German bombs were thrown on the central railroad point Realsystok.'

POLL TAX FOR 'WHITE PLAGUE' FIGHT UNLIKELY

Governor Pinkham will not urge the additional poll tax of $1 per person for a special fund to fight tuberculosis, according to an interview given to the Star-Bulletin today. In reference to the action of the committee on health of the house of representatives the governor said: "I suggested the extra poll tax as a means of starting an effective fight on the ravages of tuberculosis. If the legislature does not see fit to prepare and introduce a bill to carry out that suggestion, the proposition ends, as I can do nothing further than to make the suggestion."

The committee reported on the governor's message relative to the proposed tax for the tuberculosis fight to the effect that it was deemed unwise to increase the poll tax at this time and as no bill had been introduced to carry out the governor's suggestion, it was recommended that no action be taken. The house adopted the report.

Marriage is the monotony that relieves the excitement of life.

LEGISLATORS TO HEAR GOVERNOR READ MESSAGE

What is expected to be one of the most important gubernatorial messages to be made before the legislature will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow in the house of representatives when Governor Pinkham will appear at a joint session of the senate and house and read an address. While no official information was given out at the executive offices or by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate, it is understood in legislative circles that the message will deal with Hawaiian industries, with emphasis on the sugar industry.
